DEATH.

Suddenly, of apoplexy, at Yokohama, on the morning of Sunday, the 22nd instant, JOHN JOSEPH FRANCIS, K.C., aged 62 years.

The Hongkong Telegraph

HONGKONG, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1901.

OBITUARY.

It is with the deepest regret that we have to announce the sudden death of Mr. John Joseph Francis, K.C., the leader of the Hongkong Bar and one of the oldest and most respected residents of this Colony. Mr. Francis was originally intended for the Roman Catholic priesthood, and was educated in Dublin with that object. He was, however, of an adventurous disposition and instead of entering the Church enlisted in the Army, coming out to China in the Royal Artillery during the second China war, for which he received the medal. On the conclusion of hostilities Mr. Francis bought his discharge and commenced the study of law in the office of Mr. Owens, a solicitor then practising in the Colony, and being admitted to practice as an attorney in 1869 he very soon came to the front as a solicitor and built up a remunerative practice, having entered into partnership with Mr. M. J. D. Stephens. Wishing to enter the higher grade of his profession, Mr. Francis eventually sold his share of the business, and went home, being admitted at Gray's Inn and called to the Bar of the Colony on the 16th April, 1877. In 1878 and 1879 Mr. Francis acted as Police Magistrate, and in 1880 as Acting Police Judge, presiding over the Criminal Sessions held in April of that year. In 1889 Chief Justice Smaile paid a very high compliment to Mr. Francis on his relinquishing the duties of Police Judge, by writing to the Governor that he "entirely agreed in what had been said of him in the Daily Press that Mr. Francis had earned for himself a high reputation for ability and clear-headedness during his tenure of office." On the 27th February, 1886, Mr. Francis was appointed Queen's Counsel for Hongkong, being the third Hongkong barrister to receive that honour. In the earlier part of his career as a barrister Mr. Francis had an uphill fight in competing with Mr. Hayllar, the then leader of the Bar, but his eloquence and thorough grasp of the law quickly placed him in the leading ranks of the Bar, and since the retirement of Mr. Hayllar some eighteen years ago he had no rival. In fact, no important case could come before the Court without Mr. Francis being retained. It will be difficult to fill his place. Mr. Francis always took a very keen interest in local affairs and was ever ready to place his advice and legal knowledge at the disposal of the community. Despite this, however, he was never elected to the Legislative Council, on which body his keen insight into all local politics would have been invaluable. But in other respects Mr. Francis did a great deal for the Colony. He was a member of the Commission appointed for the revision of the Laws and Ordinances of Hongkong, and was on various occasions consulted by the Government in legal matters. To him the Po Leung Kuk Society owes its rules and regulations under which it has carried on such excellent rescue work. In 1894, when the plague first burst upon the Colony, Mr. Francis occupied a seat upon the Sanitary Board and he was appointed Chairman of the Permanent Committee appointed to deal with the stamping out of the disease. How Mr. Francis worked in that capacity, directing and controlling everything and allowing his practice to suffer from his devotion to the public interest, everybody is well aware, though, to be sure, the Government did not adequately reward him.At the time of his death Mr. Francis held a large interest in the Hongkong Telegraph, and was at one time Editor and Proprietor of the China Mail. With the China Association, the Navy League Local Branch and the Odd Volumes Society, Mr. Francis was intimately connected, and was until within a short time of his death president of the former, resigning the position on account of being unable to spare the necessary time from his large practice. Whenever any public question has cropped up Mr. Francis has always been to the fore and was particularly well known as a lecturer, his wonderful knowledge giving him a wide scope and a very diverse field upon which to draw. He was a most entertaining lecturer, speaking clearly and simply and carrying his audience with him, while in private life he was full of anecdote and was a most entertaining and instructive companion, having the whole of the Far Eastern question at his finger ends. When Mr. Francis left the Army he still took a keen interest in military matters and turned his attention to the local Volunteer Corps. In 1887, he was appointed Acting Commandant of the Volunteers and in 1888 was placed on the retired list as Honorary Captain. Since then, he took a keen interest in the Corps and was seldom absent from any important parade or display, being a well-known figure in his Captain's uniform. In the same way, although Mr. Francis abandoned the idea of entering the Roman Catholic Church, yet he took a keen interest in all Church matters and was one of the leading members of his Church in the Colony. His services were always at the disposal of the Church and they will find that in him they have lost a warm partisan and friend. Socially Mr. Francis will be much missed. At all big functions he was to be seen joining heart and soul in what was to the fore and ever ready with a cheery word for all, no matter what their station or creed might be. Many is the man who has been helped by Mr. Francis, both financially and by advice. He never made a parade of charity, but anyone who went to him in trouble seldom left without help; he was a staunch friend and a generous enemy.

That the Colony will miss Mr. Francis is certain and we feel that the whole of Hongkong will join with us in expressing sympathy for Mrs. Francis in her sad bereavement.

PUBLIC REFERENCE.

At the commencement of the proceedings in connection with the Cochrane Street disaster, Mr. Bowley, this morning, in referring to the death of the deceased gentleman, said:—May it please your Worship: Before proceeding with the business of the Court I would ask your Worship to allow me to refer to the great loss which the legal profession, and the whole Colony, have sustained in the terribly sudden death of a familiar figure in this Court, the Senior member of the local Bar, Mr. Francis, K.C., who, at one time, sat upon the Bench your Worship now occupies.

For over 30 years he has been identified with this Colony, and has practised in its courts with distinguished success; and we have become so accustomed to resort to his extensive knowledge and ripe experience in all difficulties, that this loss will cause a gap in the Colony which must long remain unfilled.

We mourn the loss to-day of a great lawyer, an eloquent and convincing speaker, and a personal friend.

I am sure your Worship and all present will join in an expression of deepest sympathy with his sorrowing widow in her bereavement.

His Worship: Mr. Bowley, I am sure it was a terrible shock to myself, and to everybody in the Colony when we heard the sad loss which yesterday befel the legal profession—the death of Mr. Francis, K.C.

With reference to the remarks you have just made I re-echo them, and I need hardly dilate on his excellent qualities both as a lawyer, and as a man.

As far as I am concerned, I might mention, as a personal matter, that he always had a very high opinion of me owing to the fact that my father was Crown Solicitor and examined him when he passed as a solicitor.

I am sure the greatest sympathy is extended to the widow in her great sorrowing.

THE LATEST FISH STORY is most touching. It comes from the Field, which publishes a letter from a gentleman who recently caught a cod weighing 187lb. On being opened and cleaned a copy of the Burial Service, such as is distributed by undertakers at funeral services, was found in the stomach, in perfect preservation.

That cod was evidently a pessimist of the worst order. He went about, always prepared for the worst.

COTTAM & CO.'s SNOWS and BUCK-INGHAM and HECHTS BOOTS and SHOES.

THE GERMAN MAIL of the 22nd August was delivered in London on the 20th instant.

MR. GILBERT, of Slough, retired stud groom, formerly employed by Sir Edward Lawson, Bart, has met his death under singular circumstances. A stray cat, habitually fought his cat, of which he was very fond. Seeing the intruder in his garden he charged his double-barrelled gun and shot it, but not fatally. Using the butt end of his gun to dispatch the cat, the weapon broke and the shot in the second barrel entered his abdomen. A verdict of "Death by misadventure" was returned.

THE CORRESPONDENT of the Morning Leader writing recently from Lisbon says:—

The Portuguese Government has ordered a general mobilisation of the troops.

This will be followed by important manoeuvres. The War Office is displaying great activity at present, and is determined to correct the defects in its organisation and have the army in a condition prepared for any international difficulties.

It is probable also that there will be naval manoeuvres in combination with the English squadrons.

THE RIDICULOUSLY small fine of $2 imposed at the Mixed Court (Shanghai), on a couple of native game dealers, who knew only too well that they were doing wrong in offering pheasants for sale before the 1st of October, is an encouragement rather than otherwise to those engaged in the illicit trade, says a recent Sport and Gossip, for the small fine imposed in discovered cases of law-breaking bears no proportion to the large profits made in the many instances never brought to light. In marked contrast to the light airy notions of the Mixed Court are the substantial deterrents inflicted by the French Court a couple of years ago, which had the effect of practically suppressing the vicious trade, and of actually stamping it out from the French Settlement.

IT WAS RATHER UNFORTUNATE that the Victoria Recreation Club's aquatic carnival should have been fixed for the same date as the great water polo match at the Cosmopolitan Docks. For some time a strong feeling of rivalry has existed between the members of the Bluebonnet Club and the non-descripts and a match was arranged for Saturday afternoon. Four picked athletes from each club were, after some discussion, selected and the game commenced. At the start a free throw was granted to the "Nons" owing to one of the teams grabbing hold of an opponent's ear and Mr. McClachlin was warned several times by the umpire for kicking any of the opposing team he could happen to come across, in the face. The game throughout was fiercely contested and was won by 7 goals to 2, but who by, we could not find out, as, in the meantime, the umpire had fallen in.

A UNIQUE SPECTACLE is to be witnessed in town at the present time, the Nagasaki Press says. A few days ago there arrived here by a Russian steamer from Vladivostok a band of Russian gipsies, who are said to have been expelled from that city by the authorities. How they arrived at the northern city is not known, but it is generally supposed they travelled overland on foot from European Russia. The band numbers some 50 persons, fifteen of whom are men. The women look extremely picturesque in their red gowns and peculiar head-dress and the men are a sturdy-looking lot. America is said to be their destination, but as they do not appear to possess much money, it is difficult to see how they will get there. At present some of the women are engaged in begging from house to house, while the other members have dispersed themselves into small bodies and are earning a few cents by singing or playing in the various saloons. The authorities have a hard problem to solve in ridding the town of these gipsies, and if it is true that the latter are penniless, they should not have been allowed to land here and the police should have insisted on their return to Vladivostok. The gipsies claim to be Russian subjects, but it is stated the local Russian Consul has refused to recognize them as such.

"In my earlier youth," Bishop W-l-d-n replied,

I don't care—for I'll soon make it narrow!"

"You are young," Bishop W-l-d-n, as Bishops

Ere you lay down your law as a fact?"

THE COCHRANE STREET COLLAPSE.

THE ENQUIRY REOPENED.

The re-opened enquiry into the circumstances attending the Cochrane Street collapse was resumed at the Police Court this morning before Mr. Hazeland.

Reference, which is reported elsewhere, was made to the death of Mr. Francis, K.C. The first witness called was the blacksmith who occupied No. 32, Cochrane Street. He said,—"I carried on business at No. 32, Cochrane Street until the time of the collapse. The shop was there for a year and a half. Among other things I made verandah brackets, railings, and water pipes. The heaviest things I made in the shop were brackets and railings. I supplied them to contractors. All the work of the shop was done on the ground floor. The forge was in front of the kitchen at the back part of the shop. It was never to the wall of No. 34. In going from the front of the cook house there was not room enough for anyone to pass between the forge and the party wall. The staircase was on the same side, and a long working bench stood between it and the forge. The anvil was three feet in front of the forge and there was a back and a sheet iron hood to the forge. When the premises were altered the forge, which was made of brick and mortar, was taken down.

Mr. Bowley:—Did you not, on Saturday, tell me the forge was not removed?

Witness:—I thought you meant the other part. The forge was not moved.

Continuing, he said:—The alterations to the premises made the shop deeper. The staircase was moved out about two feet. At the time of the accident I was away from the shop, and had been absent since the 12th August. Most of the materials belonging to the premises were stored on the ground in the middle of the shop. A quantity of short pipes was stacked against the wall of No. 30 and on the other side of the shop there was a table which took up the room and prevented the pipes being stored there. I had a number of brackets against the wall of No. 30, upon which were stored a quantity of pipes. The nails to be seen on the party wall of No. 34 were used for the purpose of holding small pieces of iron.

Mr. Bowley:—Did you have any iron that side?

Witness:—No. You said you had.

Mr. Hazeland:—Tell this witness to be careful. What did you have there?

The witness:—Some things.

Continuing he said:—The cookhouse was used for storing sundry iron, and the cooking was done on the first floor. On the verandah were a few stools. There was not a scrap of iron stored there. No spare anvils were kept on the first floor. The verandah brackets were made of flat iron bars about three inches wide. I bent the iron brackets into shape and cut them to the proper length. I also bent them, and cut holes in them. Twenty folk slept at No. 32.

Sergt. Garrod said:—I first saw the fallen houses in Cochrane Street about eleven o'clock on the night of the 14th August. There was a fire burning on the ground floor, and it took the best part of an hour to extinguish it. The front walls and verandahs of both houses had fallen across the road and there was about ten feet of the party wall between the two houses, standing at the back of a premises. The other portion had fallen. The floors had also fallen at an angle, the higher portion being against the standing wall. It was my special duty to clean up the street until the work was finished. It occupied ten days. The supports of the verandah I found in the side channel on the east side of the street. They had practically fallen right down. I only found the verandah fittings, and saw no signs of any fittings having been stored upon it. The whole of the material on the ground floor was turned over. When search was made for corpses I found a quantity of iron rods, pipes etc., at the north side of the blacksmith's shop. There was no indication of iron having been stored on the south side. I noticed a working bench on the south side of the premises. In turning over the debris if there had been iron stored at this end of the premises I should have noticed it.

The blacksmith, recalled, said:—I had no cockloft as sketched in exhibit H. on the ground floor of No. 32. There was a wooden frame standing on the floor.

The owner of the premises was recalled and his evidence read over. He said: The cockloft, which was made of wood extended across the shop from one party wall to the other. It was ten feet deep, and was nearly half filled with material. It was there when I bought the house.

His Worship:—There was a collapse in Wilmer Street, just below the Hospital. Do you remember that Mr. Tooker?

Mr. Tooker:—I remember that.

His Worship:—There was a big cockloft there which collapsed and killed the people beneath. Witness continuing: I did not notice a cockloft in the blacksmith's shop. The staircases were moved out one or two feet. The cubicles in the house were fixed up by the tenant. There were beams extending from one party wall to the other, larger and stronger than ordinary floor joists. The staircase rested upon the larger end of the beams and when the staircases were removed the beams on the first and second floors had also to be moved.

Mr. Hugh Pollock Tooker deposed:—I carry out the duties of Director of Public Works under the Building Ordinance, and have done so since 1890. During that period the work has increased enormously. From the time I took over the duties until June 1900, the staff consisted of an assistant engineer, an overseer and myself. For a number of years Mr. Hazeland was my assistant, and on his resignation Mr. Xavier was appointed. Before Mr. Hazeland took over the duties a Mr. Sample was with me as an assistant engineer. I had the whole of his time for Building Ordinance work. Both Mr. Hazeland and Mr. Xavier were sometimes called away to perform other work. Until Mr. Pearson resigned in June of last year he gave his whole time to the work. After he resigned there was no overseer at all; the work increased enormously.

Mr. Bowley:—Mr. Tooker, we don't want to go into details. Have you made representations to the head of your department about the insufficiency of your staff?

Mr. Tooker:—Over and over again.

Continuing witness stated:—I have been obliged to give less and less time to the Building Ordinance work because other duties, to which I had to attend, increased very considerably. I received notice A. and plans B. and C. early in November, and after looking at them to see they were in order I passed them to the M.O.H. The went out of my hands on November 6th; the M.O.H. wanted the width of the street verified, and I sent Mr. Crisp to take measurements. I issued a permit, marked D to the architect with the plan. Notice F. and plan E. were received on the 17th December, and after I examined them I passed them to the M.O.H. Mr. Crisp was sent to measure the street, and on the 19th December I issued permit G.

Mr. Bowley:—Did you, Mr. Tooker, at any time before the accident inspect either of these houses yourself?

Mr. Tooker:—No.

Mr. Crisp and Mr. Xavier have told us that neither of them inspected the houses. Was there any other officer in the Department who could have inspected them?—No.

Are we to take it there was no inspection by anybody whatsoever from the time the plans were submitted either before or after they were approved?—There was no examination of any kind whatsoever by any officer in the Department either before or after the approval of the plans.

Continuing, Mr. Tooker said:—Except with the approval of the D. P. W. the walls of the lower story must be of red brick, and no party wall can exceed 35 feet in length except with a return or cross wall. The D. P. W. instructed me not to enforce the letter requirement in any case. That was because of representations made by architects in the Colony. As to the solidity and thickness of the walls, the bonding of the brick work and the foundation the D. P. W. has discretion in old buildings, but not as to new ones. With respect to old buildings the D. P. W. has discretion whether he will allow alterations or additions.

Mr. Bowley:—Is it not imperative for the Surveyor-General or his officers to supervise the work, that is, according to section 75?

The witness:—I am acquainted with section 75, but would rather not express an opinion.

His Worship:—I think we have evidence it was not inspected at all.

Witness:—Plans B. and E. show there were foundations. It is the universal practice of architects not to show foundations of old walls, because it is unreasonable to expect the whole of them to be uncovered.

Mr. Bowley:—Is it the universal practice of the P. W. D. to approve of a plan submitted by a European architect without knowing whether the foundations are good or bad?

The witness:—Yes. That has been the practice for the last 10 years.

In further examination Mr. Tooker said:—The plans do not show whether the brick are blue or red, or if the bricks are properly bonded and solidly built. That could not be shown except on a plan drawn to large scale. It is desirable before exercising my discretion of approving of alterations and additions to old works to make a personal inspection. It is not possible to inspect foundations of old buildings without having them opened up. The plan B. of No. 32 Cochrane Street shows the wall is to be raised to a height of 50 ft. That is the maximum for a wall of the thickness of the one in question. Looking at plan B. it does not appear that in all probability the lower party wall was higher than 50 ft. Each wall in plan B. was practically up to the same height. The floor level of No. 32 is a foot above the top of the footing of the foundation. The plan, therefore is inaccurate. If the work was carried out in accordance with the plan the wall would be 50 feet 6 inches high. If the plan had been drawn correctly it would have shown that the wall was over 50 feet in height, and, therefore, not in accordance with the Building Ordinance. The footings are 3 feet 10 inches below the floor of No. 34, and if the wall had been built in accordance with plan E. it would have been 53 feet 4 inches in height and therefore not of the thickness required by the Ordinance. It is never the practice of the P. W. D. to open up foundations. The Architect is always called upon to ascertain the depth of the foundations.

The Court then adjourned for fifteen minutes.

NOTES FROM NATIVE PAPERS.

SHANGHAI, September 19th. DEMANDING EVACUATION.

A Peking dispatch states that it is reported that, two days after the signing of the Protocol, Viceroy Li Hung-chang sent a confidential Secretary to the Russian Legation to call on the Russian Minister and inform the latter that the Chinese Plenipotentiaries had received instructions from Hsiao ordering them to make a formal demand for the evacuation of Manchuria, since the Protocol had now been signed and peace assured between China and all the Powers. The alleged reply to this on the part of the Russian Minister was a characteristic one: "I am only a Minister accredited to Peking and can take cognisance of only local matters. I regret to say that I have no authority to deal with such a large question as the evacuation of the Manchurian provinces. The best way for your Plenipotentiaries to do would therefore be to communicate with the Minister of Foreign Affairs at St. Petersburg, who has power to deal with such important matter,"—or words to that effect. 'Apropos of the news published yesterday morning that Yuan Shih-k'ai, the Governor of Shantung, had also demanded the evacuation of Chinese territory by the German troops who have been guarding the Shantung railway line under construction, this seems to have also been done under instructions from Hsiao, like the Plenipotentiaries' intended demand on the Russian Minister at Peking. As a matter of fact, Yuan Shih-k'ai has better grounds for making such a demand on the German authorities at Tsingtau, as he has been able to keep the peace easily in his province without extraneous aid, while it has been different so far with the Manchurian province.

THE IMPERIAL EDICT ON PUNISHMENTS accorded to guilty officials implicated in the so-called Boxer revolution of last year, issued on the 19th of August last, in concession of the demands of the Foreign Ministers at Peking, is published in a copy of the Peking Gazette of the 7th inst., only just to hand. Owing to the length of the edict and pressure on our space in these columns this morning a full translation is held over. The edict in question appears to be a somewhat satisfactory one, although in certain portions the language might have been made stronger and the credit of asking for such a document allowed to the Foreign Ministers rather than to Prince Ching and Li Hung-chang.

CONDOLENCE AND SYMPATHY FROM H.I.M. KUANG HSU.

The Universal Gazette hears that H.I.M. the Emperor Kuang Hsu issued a decree immediately on learning of the death of the late President McKinley, commanding H.E. Wu Ting-fang, Chinese Minister at Washington, to tender to the United States Government his Majesty's condolences and deep sympathy for the great loss sustained by the American nation. H.E. Wu Ting-fang will also represent the Emperor at the funeral to-day.

THE HEALTH OF VICEROY LI.

The same paper states that according to a Peking telegram, Viceroy Li Hung-chang appears to be a little better and has been able to take a little nourishment regularly.

THE REACTIONARIES AT HSIAO.

A Hsiao dispatch states that recent renewed activity of the reactionary advisers of the Empress Dowager in opposing suggestions, on necessary reforms for the advancement and enrichment of the country advocated by the most enlightened and powerful Viceroys and Governors has so disgusted many of them that several memorials asking leave to resign and retire into private life, on various grounds, have been received by the Empress Dowager. Prominent amongst these memorialists are the Viceroys of the Liangkiang and of the Two Kuang provinces. The officials are also alleged to have declared that with such underhand as well as open opposition, even the reform measures authorised by Imperial edict cannot be effected in the manner desired by the Emperor, much less such as may have been suggested from the provinces.—N. C. Daily News.

REFUSING TO DRINK AND FORGOTTEN HOW TO EAT!!

An interesting question is revived in a recent notification appearing in the Indian Army Orders on the treatment of troop horses, says an Indian contemporary, and which is worded as follows:—"It has come to the notice of the Commander-in-Chief that troop horses of native cavalry, recently sent on field service, have, in many instances, refused to drink from troughs. The attention of Cavalry Commanding Officers is drawn to the necessity of accustoming horses to water from troughs, tanks, and streams, and of discontinuing the custom now prevalent in certain regiments, of allowing 'bhittis' to water animals in the lines from 'burtans' or 'buckets.' It has frequently been asserted by those competent to express an opinion on the subject that a too liberal attention to the ease and comfort of troop horses would make them useless on field service. Horses are the easiest animals in existence to educate out of their natural ways and it is conceivable that they would refuse to water from troughs and streams after being pampered by 'bhittis' in the lines. Just before Lumaden's Horse left for South Africa it will be remembered that an interesting discussion was raised as to the most suitable horses to accompany the corps. Australian horses, it was stated, by one correspondent, were not suitable because they were brought up in India under such artificial conditions that they would be unable to pick up a living on the veldt. It was even asserted that some Australian chargers in Calcutta had become so used to being fed by hand that they had forgotten how to graze. The last statement was received with incredulity; but the experience of Lumaden's Horse in South Africa in which corps there were a number of Australian horses, indirectly answered the correspondent's statement, as a very few of the animals survived the changed conditions."

AQUATIC CARNIVAL AT THE VICTORIA RECREATION CLUB.

For the third time in the past two months the Victoria Recreation Club was favoured with ideal weather for their sports. The buildings were tastefully decorated and every attention had evidently been paid to the comfort of the invited friends. Opposite the main building a large government lighter was moored, and occupied principally by the band of the Royal Welsh Fusiliers whose playing during the afternoon was fully appreciated. As the time approached for the first event the spectators arrived in droves until every seat was occupied, and those unfortunates who arrived late had to content themselves with any point of vantage they could secure. One of the prettiest sights witnessed lately was the tiers of seats facing the water occupied almost entirely by ladies, attired in all the colours of the rainbow and looking delightfully cool to the poor mortals who were condemned to remain out in the sun. Saturday's proceedings were not meant in any way to be taken seriously, but as a wind up to the swimming season and the committee are to be congratulated for the way they have kept the interest alive and the members together. In no small way has the success of the past season been due to the untiring efforts of the Steward, Mr. C. Lesbirel, and we are perfectly willing to believe that after serving the Club faithfully all day he dreams of fresh efforts all night. Such services under the direction of enthusiasts like Mr. Kennet, Mr. E. A. Sargent, Mr. Hazeland and others necessarily brings about the success that has crowned the efforts of the Committee during the past year. The one serious event of the day was the dead heat between S. R. Moore and N. H. Alves in the four lengths handicap. Both men appeared to be in fine fettle, showing signs of careful training, and it was generally considered that Moore's handicap would just about pull him through. In a straight out swim Moore with 10 secs. advantage would undoubtedly have won, but three turns, at each of which he lost at least 14 yards, while Alves was pushing off faultlessly, turned the balance in the other man's favour and Alves won by a length and a half in excellent time. Then followed the various events as given below viz., Tub race, Leap frog, Greasy pole, blindfold race &c. In the meantime the real comic element was provided by four men belonging to our land forces and really, the fooling was excellent and kept the audience in roars of laughter whenever they appeared. These four deserved a hearty vote of thanks for their efforts to amuse the onlookers, especially the one that turned a back somersault from the high diving stage, no simple feat. After the last event on the programme, came the important function, namely the presentation of prizes to the successful competitors. There was a very handsome showing of silver were arranged on a table in the gymnasium, and there was a general rush to witness the proceedings. The Hon. H. E. Pollock, K.C. opened the ball in a few well chosen words, introducing Mrs. Hastings, who then distributed the prizes to the winners as under:—

H. Alves, A. Humphreys, R. Lapsley, F. Jorge. The winners received a gold badge each, and hold the Shield for one year. Second team (silver badges)—E. Cor, Holland (captain), Corporal Hogg, Private Roberts, Private Collins, Private Gregory, Private Monk, Private Andrews.

At the conclusion of the prize giving, the Chairman, Sir John the Hon. H. E. Pollock, G. GIRAULT for TABLE DELICACIES.

K.C. addressed Mr. Hastings in the following words, Captain Hastings: It is my pleasant privilege this afternoon, on behalf of the members of the Victoria Recreation Club, to make a presentation to you in recognition of your very valuable services as chairman of the Club. These services are very highly appreciated indeed by the members of the Club, especially in view of the fact that you were chairman at a very difficult time indeed; when the old building of the Club was knocked down to make way for what I believe is technically though somewhat libellously called "Naval Works Extraordinary." (Hear, hear.) The thanks of members are also due to you in particular for your advocacy of the claims of the Club, when the Naval Yard reclamation is finally made, that a corner should be found on that reclamation for the Club's new premises. (Hear, hear.) In that project you have met with consistent support from the president of our Club, H.E. the Governor, and I may say that although nothing is definitely settled as yet, the naval authorities are disposed to view this important matter in a very friendly and sympathetic spirit. Members may therefore confidently hope, I think, that in the course of a few years this Club will be so fortunate as to possess a nice building upon the north-west corner of the Naval Yard reclamation, with water sheltered from the prevailing wind in winter in the lee of that reclamation. I think, Captain Hastings, it is unnecessary for me to say anything further in making this presentation. The services you have rendered for the Club are very well-known and appreciated, and I would ask you now, on behalf of the members of the Victoria Recreation Club, to accept this testimonial of the very great regard in which you are held by them.

Mr. Pollock then handed to Commander Hastings the case containing the silver salver and tea set, and a beautifully chased silver cigar case bearing the following inscription:—"Victoria Recreation Club, Hongkong, 21st September, 1901. To Commander W. C. Hastings, R.N., in recognition of the many valuable services rendered to the Club during his tenure of the office of Chairman."

In replying, Commander Hastings said—Mr. Chairman and members of the Victoria Recreation Club, I have to thank you very sincerely for the exceedingly beautiful presents I have received from you. Anything I may have tried to do for the Club I assure you was a labour of love. (Laughter.) The chairman of a club like this has really a very easy time of it indeed. He has an excellent committee, who always keep him straight when he tries to go out of the beaten path. The people who have to work hard are the secretaries, and one chairman wears out a number of secretaries. I have had Mr. Armstrong, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Yule, Mr. Reid, and—oh, I am sure I have forgotten one or two. As far as anything I was able to do at the time I was on leave, I think the thanks of the Club are due to Admiral Holland. When I saw Mr. Austin Chamberlain, who was then Civil Lord of the Admiralty, I found he knew more than I did. He produced a plan by Admiral Holland, and in fact I found the whole thing cut and dried. I assure you, ladies and gentlemen, I should have done more happily, if this presentation had not been so utterly unexpected. That is one thing a chairman has to do—to make speeches now and again. I always used to have plenty of warning about these things, but on the present occasion I got no warning whatever. I will ask you to excuse me, ladies and gentlemen, for the lame way in which I have returned thanks for your beautiful presents. (Cheers) So ended a most pleasant afternoon. An afternoon of well managed, well organised sport, everything going without a hitch because the efforts of the committee were backed up by the willingness of the competitors, with the added incentive of a crowded house.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

This morning about 8.30 a party of 30 coolies were engaged in excavating a portion of vacant ground at the back of Bridges Street. With very slight warning a fall of about 30 or 40 tons of earth and boulders occurred. The accident was at once reported to the Central Police Station and Inspector McNab was quickly on the spot with a body of men. The gang of coolies that had been working were tallied, and one was found to be missing. In a short time his body was found crushed under a pile of stones and life pronounced extinct. The remains were removed to the mortuary.

STRIKE OF THE MEMBERS OF THE PAINTER'S GUILD.

This morning every contractor was notified that the Chinese painters refused to work any longer if a rise in pay of 50 cents a day was not granted them. The masters will meet and discuss the matter and it is anticipated will allow the concession. In the meantime great inconvenience is being felt by those that have work in hand and are bound to finish in a certain time under a penalty.

LABUAN NOTES.

(From our own Correspondent.)

LABUAN, September 12th.

The Governor returned from his trip to Lawas and Brunei on the evening of 8th inst. He does not appear to have met with the success that he expected. The Petrel first called off Lawas, where the launch Melati had been previously sent to await him and in her he proceeded up river. On arriving at the town of Lawas, Pengiran Bakar, as was to be expected was, "not at home." The Governor then proceeded in the Petrel to Brunei and called on the Sultan who subsequently returned the visit, presenting the Governor at the same time with one of the famous Brunei gold embroidered sarongs and the usual three wax candles profusely decorated. At these interviews the Governor discussed the ruining of Mengalong and Lawas to British N. Borneo Company. H. H. The Sultan gave a very diplomatic reply, telling the Governor that he would raise no objections provided Pengiran Bakar wished to do so, well knowing that Bakar will do nothing of the kind, except compelled by force. The Governor asked the Sultan for a letter to Pengiran Bakar and then returned to Lawas, but with the same result "not at home again, gone up country."

The Governor's party then proceeded up river to Marapok in the Mengalong district where Pengiran Tengat was on a visit to Labuan some few months back and entertained by late Governor Clifford. It was understood at the time the object of inviting him was to secure a "final" his territory, an object which is believed to have been accomplished, although it is not yet known whether the British Government have sanctioned this proceeding. The Consul, who was formerly a servant of the Chartered Company, may not have raised any objection, on the contrary his sympathies may not unnaturally be supposed to be with his former master.

of Sprawak have it by all means. His rule is paternal and exemplary and suited to the condition of these people, and infinitely superior to anything the Chartered Company can or ever will set up.

CONCERT AT THE CIVILIAN CLUB.

One of the best concerts held this season took place at the Civilian Club on Saturday evening. The spacious rooms were comfortably filled by between 60 and 70 members and visitors, and every attention was paid to their comfort. With regard to the manner in which visitors are treated, we would warn all young beginners against the hospitality of the Club. As Mrs. Harte would say it is "frequent and free" and the members vie with each other on insisting on each visitor having a good time. The arrangements had been, more or less, left in the hands of a very well-known member of the Committee who, with his experience in this line, had left no detail unattended to. As usual Hong Kong's ideal Chairman conducted the proceedings, and by a combination of tact and firmness materially helped to make the function the success it was. For want of space we are unable to notice fully everyone who contributed a song, recitation or dance, but it was one of the strongest programmes we have seen. The names of Serg's Ward, Viggers, Simmers, French and Burnett together with Messrs. Oxberry, Aldridge, Ley Kum and others will show the chief of the local talent were present. Everyone seemed to be in good voice, particularly Serg Simmers who we have never heard sing better. Serg French's songs were splendidly delivered and Mr. Oxberry singing with good taste pleased everybody. A comical little gentleman named Aldridge carried off the honours in the humorous line and fairly convulsed the audience with his laughing song. Serg Nephew was the accompanist and well deserved the vote of thanks awarded him. The toast of the visitors, proposed by the chairman with musical honours, brought an entertainment that was a credit to the Club to a close.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

THERAPION.

This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of strictures and other serious diseases.

In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a destruction of mercury, sarsaparilla, &c., to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system through the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION may be procured of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. Prices in England 2/6 and 4/6. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word "THERAPION" appears on the wrapper, and Stamp in white letters on a red ground, affixed to every genuine package by order of Her Majesty's Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.

LIABLE TO A SENTENCE OF FIVE HUNDRED YEARS.

George C. Thomas, director of the Consolidated Stock and Petroleum Exchange, New York, has been arrested on the charge of violating the section of the war revenue law that imposes a stamp-tax upon sales of stock at the rate of 1 cent per $100 of face value.

Thomas offered himself up for the benefit of fellow members of the Consolidated Exchange to make a test of this section of the law on the ground that the tax is unconstitutional. He is ordered to supply a basis for prosecution. He has been neglecting ever since May 22nd to stamp his memoranda of sales of stocks. The law provides that violators of the section in question shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall pay a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1,000 or be imprisoned not more than six months, or both, at the discretion of the Court. He is liable to $1,000 fine and 500 years in jail.

CHINA'S CLAIM ON AMERICA.

The Chinese Government, through Minister Wu Ting Fang, has filed a claim for indemnity to the amount of $500,000 on account of the alleged outrageous treatment of Chinese at Butte, Mont. says a Washington dispatch.

There is a suggestion of Boxer outrages reversed in the petition of the case to the State Department, the treatment inflicted upon the Chinese at Butte being claimed to have been cruel and oppressive. It is charged that some of them were killed; that others lost their property; that nearly all were ruined in business, and that many of them were driven out. The claimants number several hundred.

The outrages date back to 1886, and it is declared that the City Council of Butte upheld the rioters and the boycotters; that the State, on appeal, decided, in language so judicial as to, by itself, be a subject of complaint, that City Council was right, and finally that relief could be obtained only measurably through an appeal to the United States Circuit Court. The claim raises some novel and interesting points of international law.

ELECTROMAGNETIC DERRICKS.

The use of huge electromagnets for lifting heavy weights is increasing in America, writes George E. Walsh in The Electrical Review, although it is not so extended as it deserves to be. Says Mr. Walsh:—

"In the rolling-mills in particular the magnets are to-day employed on quite a considerable scale. A steel plate 40 or more feet long and 8 feet wide, as it comes from the rolls, is an awkward article to handle. Whether coming from the straightening rolls or the 'hot-bed' to the shears, or from the latter to the inspecting-beds and stock piles, the plate must be carried by overhead travelling conveyors or on roller tables. When carried by the overhead conveyors the plate must be attached by hand labour to hooks, or if roller tables are used, considerable expense must be incurred in building long tables.

"The modern and most economical way is to carry the plates by means of overhead conveyors equipped with powerful electromagnets. The sheets of steel are then handled quickly and easily whether being carried to the shears or being loaded on cars. The magnets are simply lowered to the surface of the plates, and the electricity is turned on. According to the figures supplied by the mills using electromagnets for lifting purposes, there is a distinct saving in cost of operating as well as in time. One man can manage the work that three and four were required to
